CAMPBELL'S WHITE DUTCH WINTER ONION.

These onions are ready for the market two or three weeks earlier than the set onions. Sow in the spring the same as the ordinary onion seed, and cultivate the same as the ordinary onion.

Early in August pull, cut off the root, and about one-half of the top, then transplant the same as the ordinary onion sets, and leave them in the ground all winter. The following spring, as soon as the frost is out of the ground, they are ready for the market. They do not form a bulb but multiply and in many cases one multiplier in the fall will make one bunch in the spring.

For winter use plant in the hot bed in August, and cover with glass before frost, and good bunching onions will be produced all winter.
